

presents

M'Connachie & J.M.B.

by Anne Stenhouse

'M' Connachie is the unruly half of myself: the writing half

Seven Women

by
J.M. Barrie

A must see for anyone who has ever been in love

The Twelve Pound Look

by
J.M. Barrie

Set in 1910 but with a continuing contemporary resonance

J.M. BARRIE PETER PAN MAN

Three one-act plays celebrating Scotland's 'Son of Kirriemuir'

Scottish Tour 2012

Tolbooth, Stirling; Cottiers Theatre, Glasgow;
Webster Memorial Theatre, Arbroath; East Kilbride Arts Centre, East Kilbride; Pleasance Theatre, Edinburgh; Theatre Royal, Dumfries; Howden Park Centre, Livingston

Three one-act plays to celebrate Scotland's Son of Kirriemuir:

two plays by Barrie,
Seven Women
(a light-hearted love story)

and

The Twelve Pound Look
(with a continuing contemporary resonance)

and one about the man, M'Connachie and J.M.B by Anne Stenhouse.

Who is M'Connachie?
M'Connachie is not a real person.
He's Barrie's alter-ego.
He's a ghost.
He's a scapegoat.
He writes the plays.

"Brilliantly original production"
– St. Andrews Citizen.

Tour Dates and Details May/June 2012

Tolbooth, Stirling – THUR 10 May, 7.30 £8/5 T: 01786 27 4000

Cottiers Theatre, Glasgow – FRI 11 May, 7.30 £11/9 T: 0141 357 4000

Webster Memorial Theatre, Arbroath – FRI 18 MAY, 7.30 £10/8 T: 01241 435800

East Kilbride Arts Centre, East Kilbride – FRI 25 May, 7.30 £9/7 T: 01355 261000

Pleasance Theatre, Edinburgh – TUES 29 May, 7.30 £10/8 T: 0131 650 4673

Theatre Royal, Dumfries – FRI 1 June, 7.30 £13/11 T: 01387 253383

Howden Park Centre, Livingston – TUES 5 June, 7.30 £10/8 (£5 students) T: 01506 777666

For more information on the production visit:
www.theatrebroad.co.uk